MODEL CITIES: A BIBLIOGRAPHY

Gary L. Menges, Associate Fine Arts Librarian, Cornell University

INTRODUCTION

This bibliography is intended to provide an initial listing of some of the references on model cities. Since model cities program is relatively new most of the general references are of an explanatory nature. An updated bibliography is planned.

The legislative history section is arranged chronologically in two parts: documents and commentary. The case studies section is by no means complete. For the most part, only applications available in the planning collection of of the Fine Arts Library at Cornell have been listed. Part four lists the cities selected for model city planning grants in the first round and information about their applications may be obtained from these cities.
